I like Alternative 4. I currently take the Tappan Zee Express to connect to Metro North in Tarrytown. A one ride seat into Manhattan would be fantastic. Not every train coming in or out of Tarrytown has a connecting bus to Rockland, so the choices for commuters are limited, especially during off peak hours. Even though I wish I could work in Rockland County, realistically, I'll probably be commuting into NYC for the rest of my work life (the next 25 years or so), so this option would be optimal for me.
